

CASTING FOR PAGEANT OF CENTURY AGO HERE APRIL 22

The Adams County Commissioners, E. Donald Scott, Clarence J. Waybright and Charles B. Bender, will represent their counterparts of a century ago in the pageant to be held April 22 depicting the departure of the first troops to leave from Adams County for the Civil War.

Mrs. Roy W. Gifford, chairman of the pageant committee, said the present commissioners will be costumed to represent Ephraim Myers, William B. Gardners and James H. Marshall who, according to the listing at the court house, were the county's commissioners in 1861.

The commissioners will be among a number of persons representing prominent citizens of the community a century ago during the pageant. Attorney Donald G. Oyler will represent Attorney David Wills, who a few years after the period depicted in the pageant established the National Cemetery here and invited Abraham Lincoln to dedicate it.

SEEK 20 HORSEMEN

Among those who will be narrators of the pageant, either as announcers or orators giving voice to the speeches which will be punctuated by men in the costume of the day, will be Joseph L. Rosensteel, Van Lott and Attorneys Eugene Hartman, Donald M. Swope, Daniel E. Teeter and John MacPhail.

Jacob M. Sheads is securing 20 boys to appear as the National Cadets, a company of youngsters headed by Daniel Skelly, which organized in 1861 to do what it could do for the nation. Most of its members when they became old enough joined the armed forces.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner is seeking to secure 20 horsemen to represent Capt. McCurdy's Cavalry which formed as the first troops were leaving the community.

SVR UNITS COMING

Sons of Veterans Reserve units from throughout Pennsylvania are scheduled to make up the 150 member Independent Blues unit which was the first Adams County contingent to enter the Union army in 1861. Arrangements for the SVR presence are being made by O. G. MacPherson and Lt. Col. Corvin Bryan.

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett and Burgess Wilbur Plank are arranging for the detour of traffic around the center of the town which will be used for the pageant from 1 to 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, April 22.

Mrs. Gifford made an appeal for persons to costume themselves and take part in the pageant. Men, women and children are needed to increase the number of "citizens of the county" gathered for the "departure of the Independent Blues." Those who can participate are asked to contact Mrs. Gifford. A member of those participating in the pageant are making or already have their own costumes. Others are renting costumes from a Westminster concern for $5.

Twelve-Foot Cross In County Church

Trinity Lutheran Church, Arndtsville, again this year will have a 12-by-8 foot Easter lily cross in the chancel of the church. It is arranged by the Altar Guild.

The cross, which contains 82 pots of lilies, is sponsored by members of the congregation who buy the lilies, and after the 10:30 a.m. service Sunday are permitted to take them home or place them on graves.

Rev. Maynard S. Barnhart Jr., today invited the public to view the cross between 6 and 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday evenings.

Seminary Choir To Sing Wednesday

The Lutheran Theological Seminary Choir will present a program of sacred music at the Olmsted Air Force Base chapel next Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The well-known musical organization will appear there in its last concert of the spring season following a concert tour of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Michigan.

TRUCK HITS CAR

Lester Sents, R. 2, reported to borough police Thursday that while stopped for traffic on Baltimore St., a truck driven by James Carlin, Alexandria, Va., drifted back into his car causing $25 damage to the hood. Both vehicles were covered by insurance, police said.

Adams Firemen To Meet Here Monday

The Adams County Firemen's Association will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Gettysburg fire house, E. Middle St.

Original plans had called for Budde R. Brumbaugh, director of the Bureau of Police Pension and Firemen's Relief Funds for Pennsylvania, to be present to speak on the uses that may be made of the Firemen's Relief Funds. E. Glenn Raffensperger, president of the Gettysburg Fire Department, who made arrangements for Brumbaugh's presence here, Wednesday received a letter stating that "because of illness" Brumbaugh will be unable to be present Monday night.

EASTER VIGIL OPENS AT 10:45 P.M. SATURDAY

Solemn rites centuries old will be followed Saturday night at the Easter Vigil preceding the midnight Mass at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church.

The service will begin at 10:45 o'clock with the Blessing of the New Fire followed by the Blessing of the Paschal Candle which will burn during the services of Easter time.

TO BLESS WATER

The two blessings will be conducted in the vestibule of the church. Members of the congregation in the church will hold candles. When the blessing of the paschal candle is completed all lights in the church are extinguished and the first light to be seen will be the paschal candle entering the church in a procession. The individual candles are then lighted.

Four lessons will then be read giving an account of "God's dealings with His people before Christ came."

Singing of the first part of the Litany of the Saints will precede the Blessing of the Baptismal Water. The congregation will renew baptismal promises.

Following the Litany of the Saints, the midnight Easter Mass begins.

ADULT NIGHT SCHOOL ENDS ITS SESSIONS

The Adult Education Evening School closed for the season Thursday evening at Gettysburg High School.

Certificates of achievement were presented to those students fulfilling the course requirements at the conclusion of the Civil War class on Monday taught by J. M. Sheads; the typing class last Thursday, taught by Roderick Laird, and the blueprint reading class Thursday, taught by Ronald Hall.

All other classes had ended within the last two weeks. These were oil painting, shorthand, sewing and woodworking classes.

ATTENDANCE GOOD

Seven classes were in session from January 16 to March 30 with some courses lasting eight weeks.

HOLD ANNUAL SCIENCE MEET AT COLLEGE

The 37th annual two-day meeting of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science got underway this morning in the Student Union Building on the Gettysburg College campus with 17 professors from colleges and universities throughout Pennsylvania discussing summaries on research papers on biology, geology and other topics.

After an address of welcome by Gen. Willard S. Paul, president of the College, Dr. Earl Bowen, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, made a few announcements. Chairman of the affair is Kenneth N. Dearolf, president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Science.

In the biology session, C. E. Mohr, director of Swiss Pines Park, Malvern, Pa., presented his observations on the packrat in southcentral Pennsylvania. Some of his previous work on the packrat appeared in the National Geographic Magazine. He was followed by Thomas H. Knepp, Stroud Union High School, Stroudsburg, who spoke on the external structure of the heart of the bullfrog.

Richard Wydoski and David E. Davis, Pennsylvania State University, noted in their paper that the number of placental scars in mammals correspond roughly with the number of individuals born. John C. Bartone and Robert G. Ridener, Wilberforce University, followed with a 12-minute discussion on the classification of the four-day old chick embryo with the Streeter Horizons of Human Development.

Clyde Herreid and Davis, of Penn State University, discussed heart weight and metabolism of small vertebrates. They noted that bats, the only flying mammals, have heart weights that are not large for small mammals.

MAN IS BADLY HURT; CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Bernard Frazer, 37, 415 Baltimore St., suffered a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries when he was crushed between a car and a truck while at work at Hollinger's Meat Products, Inc., near Mechanicsburg, at 8:40 o'clock this morning.

Brought here in the Grantham ambulance, Frazer was admitted as a patient at the Warner Hospital.

A spokesman at the retail meat products establishment near Mechanicsburg, at which Frazer has worked for about seven years, said Frazer had loaded his truck with meat preparatory to making distribution in Gettysburg, Greencastle and Waynesboro.

CAR'S BRAKES FAILED

The local man then had gone to the rear of the truck to fill it with gasoline while a fellow employee, James Piffer, was checking the oil at the engine of the vehicle.

A customer had driven into the parking lot at Hollinger's and halted his vehicle about 75 feet from the spot where Frazer was putting gas into the truck. His brakes apparently did not hold and his car started coasting down hill toward the local man.

Neither Frazer nor Piffer noticed the drifting auto until the car had pinned Frazer against the back of the truck. Neither the car nor truck was badly damaged, it was stated.

TRAPPED 10 MINUTES

Piffer heard Frazer shout and ran to the rear to discover the local man caught about the hips between the two vehicles. He and others who came rushing to his assistance were unable to move the vehicles and finally a tractor was secured to pull the two vehicles apart. Frazer was trapped for about 10 minutes before he could be released.

The mercury topped the freezing mark every day this month and registered minimum temperatures that were at or below the freezing mark on only 15 days.

The month's weather was marked by sudden and extreme temperature changes. There were freezing rains and sleet, strong winds, a thunderstorm and fog in addition to the one early morning snow and snow flurries on a number of other occasions.

Colored Eggs At Market Saturday

Colored Easter eggs will be available at the Farmers' Market Saturday at 40 to 65 cents a dozen. There will also be red beet and deviled eggs at 65 cents a dozen. Water crest and dandelion will be 15 cents a box; horse radish 25 cents a half pint; pussy willows 25 cents a bunch and home-made cakes and pies.

There will also be cured ham, chicken apples and turnips.

SURPLUS OF RAIN

The daily high temperatures this month averaged 51.58 degrees and the average daily low was just above freezing—33.29 degrees. The month's average daily temperature was 42.44 degrees which is 1.81 degrees above normal for this month. In March of last year the average was only

Rusk Declines Comment On Eastern Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk today returned from what he called a "highly productive" SEATO meeting on the Laos crisis and immediately prepared to report to President Kennedy.

Rusk's jet plane touched down at noon, completing a round-the-world flight during which Rusk attended a three-day meeting of Southeast Asia Treaty Organization foreign ministers at Bangkok, Thailand, and conferred with Prime Minister Nehru in India.

The secretary of state arranged to report to Kennedy by telephone from the State Department. The President is on an Easter vacation in Palm Beach, Fla.

Rusk declined to say whether or not he is optimistic about the possibility of a peaceful settlement of the troubles in strife-ridden Laos.

He noted that the Russians have not yet replied to a British peace plan proposal.

The important thing to have in Laos, he said, is a cessation of hostilities, whether or not under a formally proclaimed cease-fire, so that the negotiations for a peaceful solution can get under way.

In advance of Rusk's arrival, high official sources said this country is standing firm on its condition that a halt in the shooting must precede any international conference.

WINDFALL FOR GAS STATIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Operators of retail service stations stand to reap a modest windfall as Pennsylvanians' new two-cent gasoline hike goes into effect Saturday.

They will be collecting seven cents tax on each gallon of gasoline on which they previously paid five cents. Individual operators will be able to pocket the two-cent difference, because the new law failed to spell out any procedure to the contrary.

One retail dealer in the Harrisburg area said he expected to net about $100 from the change-over.

One factor may eat into dealer profits: Distributors said they would not respond to unusual orders for gas deliveries today on the eve of the tax increase. Another factor: Many motorists were expected to fill up their own tanks at the cheap rate today that retail inventories would be greatly diminished.

DETECTIVE JAILS SON

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP)—A police detective brought his son to jail Thursday for the robbery of a taxicab driver.

Detective Harold T. Egeland said his son, Roger A. Egeland, 21, admitted robbing Duane A. Bajenske, 30, after slipping a rope noose around the driver's neck.

Bajenske was hospitalized with rope burns about his neck and bruises and cuts suffered in trying to fight off his assailant early Thursday.

Inspector Gene Arnold of the sheriff's office said suspicion was directed at young Egeland when it was learned he had been drinking for several hours in a tavern near where the cab was hired. Police questioned the young man, Arnold said, but Egeland denied the robbery. Several hours later Egeland changed his mind and called his father, who took him to the county jail.

Choir To Sing In Fairfield Tuesday

The Bluffton College A Cappella Choir will present a concert of sacred music Tuesday in the Fairfield Mennonite Church at 7:30 p.m.

The choir has been noted for its interpretation of choral music. The program will consist of musical works from the classical period, Russian liturgical works, current literature, and hymns of deep religious quality.

Prof. Earl W. Lehman is the director. He is a graduate of Bluffton College and has a master's degree from Ohio State University. He is active as an adjudicator and guest conductor at festivals.

COUNTIANS GET INVITATIONS TO TRAFFIC TALKS

A number of Adams countians have received invitations to attend the second annual Governor's Traffic Safety conference at Harrisburg May 3.

Dr. Amos E. Neyhart, executive director of the Governor's Traffic Safety Council, has listed a number of speakers for the conference and quotes Governor Lawrence as saying the annual conferences are held because "we need unified support at the citizen level in every community in Pennsylvania if we are going to halt the carnage on our streets and highways." Dr. Neyhart said, "It is the acknowledged responsibility of national, state and local governments to provide leadership, but only interested citizens can generate the grassroots support that is essential to the success of traffic safety programs in the community."

Theme of the conference will be "Progress Means Change." Dr. Harold Brandeisone, New York City, chairman of the committee on standards for Motor Vehicle Drivers of the Industrial Medical Association, will evaluate the results of Pennsylvania's pioneering program of period physical examinations for drivers.

TO HEAR SPECIALISTS

Henry T. Barnes, commissioner of the Department of Transit and Traffic for Baltimore, will speak on "Traffic Engineering in Your Community."

Quinn Tamm, Washington, D. C., retired assistant director of the FBI and now director of field service and traffic for the International Association of Chiefs of Police, will speak on law enforcement. Burton Marsh, director of traffic engineering and safety for the American Automobile Association, Washington D. C., will speak on pedestrian safety.

A panel discussion will be held on mass communications and traffic safety headed by Quinton E. Beauge, editor of the Williamsport Sun-Gazette.

Big Four To Run At Florida Derby

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — John Selers on Carry Back; Eddie Arcaro on Beau Prince; Bill Hartack on Crozier; Willie Shoemaker on Ronnies Ace.

Those are the "big four" in Saturday's $100,000 added Florida Derby, the last big test for 3-year-olds this spring. Four others are expected to go in the mile and an eighth feature at Gulfstream Park, the 10th edition of the "run for the orchids."

Completing the field will be Ishmael Valenzuela on Garvol, Mickey Salomone on Intensive, Larry Gilligan on Game and Wayne Chambers on Oak Dandy.

Each owner and trainer is confident his colt can take first money of about $75,000.

The first five finishers will share in the purse, with second money $20,000, third $10,000, fourth $7,000 and fifth $3,000.

Durocher And Paul Talking Together

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Leo Durocher, who admittedly would like to be a major league baseball manager again, and Gabe Paul, who won't need a manager for his new Houston club until next year, have been talking together.

They won't say what their conversation was about.

After a 20-minute talk prior to Thursday's Los Angeles-St. Louis exhibition, both Durocher, now a Dodger coach, and Paul, general manager of the Houston National League club-to-be, called it "merely a friendly chat." Neither would say it concerned managerial possibilities for 1962.

SERVICES MARK GOOD FRIDAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A solemn mood prevailed over Pennsylvania today as thousands of Christians flocked to churches on this Good Friday to commemorate the Crucifixion of Christ.

Good Friday is a legal holiday in Pennsylvania and public offices and banks were closed. Some business firms also closed for the day while others planned to shut down for three hours from noon until 3 p.m.

The Most Rev. John J. Krol, newly installed Roman Catholic archbishop of Philadelphia, participated in special services in the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul.

The Council of Churches of the Pittsburgh area had on its agenda two special television shows—"Were you there?" portraying the trials suffered by Jesus on the day of his Crucifixion, and "Words From The Cross," made up of several readings.

In Harrisburg, Dr. Raymond Lindquist, of the First Presbyterian Church of Hollywood, concluded a series of Holy Week sermons with services in mid-morning.

imals, although it might be thought that they should have large muscular hearts because of their great activity. Birds have relatively larger hearts than mammals, they concluded.

J. H. Leathem, G. Sichuk, W. G. Valleau and A. N. Granitis, all of Rutgers University, presented some of their observations on the effects of hormones on the growth of "Walker 256" tumor in adult rats.

Body weight response of newborn mice to X-irradiation was discussed by Donald J. Nash of Penn State University. The biology session closed with a talk by Albert M. Rosenberg, Swarthmore College, on a new theory on X-ray inactivation of yeast.

GENERAL SESSION

In the general session from 10 a.m. to noon, Albert Schatz and Joseph J. Martin, of the Radburn Research Institute, Fairlawn, N. J. spoke about the role to acid lords of yore. They showed that the biological activity of fluoride is not proportional to the concentration of the element. Their observations have implications in pharmacology and toxicology.

The use of contact lenses in the United States and Russia was discussed by Robert J. Morrison, of Morrison Laboratories, Inc., Harrisburg. He was followed by George Siemencow, Lafayette College, who discussed the curriculum of the agricultural institutes of the Soviet Union.

Vivian, Diane and Albert Schatz of the Radburn Institute presented their view on science education on the elementary school level. They discussed the possibility of assigning experiments as homework and the techniques which may be used to accomplish this objective.

OTHER PAPERS

An extension of dominance in game theory was presented by Francis E. Munley of the University of Scranton. "Is Coffee Good for You" was presented by Frederick R. Greenbaum, of Dobbins Technical High School, Philadelphia. T. R. Martland Jr., Lafayette College, discussed the correlation of science and religion and John F. Corso, of Penn State University, concluded the general session with his paper on Neural Quantum Theory and Threshold of Audibility.

All officers, past presidents, chairmen and members of the standing committees held a joint meeting Thursday evening in the Upper Lounge of the Student Union Building. Registration began this

Miss Irene Wolfe, 81, Indulges In Her Favorite Hobby Of Linen Weaving

Miss Irene E. Wolfe, a guest at the Gilliland Presbyterian Home, 220 Baltimore St., fifteen years ago decided to retire as a farmer near Peach Glen. It wasn't long before she became restless and took up another hobby—linen weaving.

The late O. H. Benson introduced her to the art and later she studied under Mrs. Osma Gallinger at the latter's Studio of Weaving in Guernsey.

Today, Miss Wolfe, who is in unusually good health for her 81 years, spends a few hours a day making towels, bureau scarfs, luncheon sets, and table runners on her loom and her diligent work is beginning to pay off.

Sometime ago, when the centennial observance of the Civil War was first announced, she thought it would be fitting and proper to weave pieces as they did back in the 1860's. Of course in those days, she said, weaving linen was an art and a part of home life. Today, she said, she thinks she is the only person in Gettysburg who makes hand-woven pieces for sale.

DESIGNS VARY

Her designs vary from "Pointsettias" to "Bomber Flights" in many colors. She will fill special orders for those who wish something unusual for the home.

One of her problems, she said, is to obtain flax for her work. She said it used to be grown by many farmers but it probably is no longer profitable. When asked where she secures her supply, she remarked "at country sales."

Among the various prizes she

Final Reports Boosting R. C. Campaign Fund: With the house-to-house canvass for contributions to the Adams County Red Cross fund ending Saturday, the chapter office here today was receiving final reports from various district chairmen on the amount collected during the campaign.

Up to noon today $10,444.21 of the $14,050 quota has been turned in to the county office. An additional $1,250 was in the hands of the drive committee at Littlestown, Dean Stover, chairman there, reported by telephone. No reports had been received from New Oxford, East Berlin and a few other sections with the chairmen there receiving final reports from the solicitors before turning in their sums to the county chapter.

Bigerville Hi Players Will Present Play: "Our Town," a three-act play by Thornton Wilder, will be presented by the Peter Pan Players of Bigerville high school in the Bigerville auditorium April 11 and 12, it was announced by the school today.

LeRoy Zeigler will portray the role of the stage manager who tells the story of "Our Town." Taking part in the various skits which are bound together into the play by the narration of the stage manager are David Pitzer who plays the part of a typical small town doctor, "Doctor Gibbs." Betty Slaughan will have the part of his wife and Barbara Klinefelter and John Baugher will portray the parts of their children, "Rebecca" and "George."

Pfc. Donald Leer Teaching In Korea: Pfc. Donald C. Leer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Leer, York Springs, is stationed with the 27th Special Service company at Seoul, Korea, and is teaching farm management at the 24th Corps university. Pfc. Leer, former soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service, entered the army in November, 1944. He participated in the southern Philippine campaign and wears the Asiatic Pacific ribbon and the Philippine Liberation ribbon. He graduated from York Springs high school in 1937 and from Penn State college in 1941.

His wife and daughter reside at York Springs.

Littlestown Rotary Club Gives Plans For Meetings: The Littlestown Rotary club is planning several interesting meetings during the next two weeks. The joint Rotary-Lions meeting, previously announced, will be held Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock, at which time the presentation of the Boy Scout Charter will be made. The scoutmaster, assistant scoutmaster and several scouts have been invited to attend the meeting. Besides the presentation of the charter, there will be a speaker on scouting. Next week, April 9, the Club Service committee will have charge of the program, and the subject will be another discussion on the Rotarian. This committee consists of Harrison Snyder, chairman, Thomas McSherry, Edward Richardson, Cloy Couse, Roy D. Knouse, Luther W. Ritter, and Arthur E. Bair. On April 16, the Vocational Service committee will be in charge, and classification talks will be given.

Spring Blooms, Dandelion On Market Today: Corsages and small bouquets of daffodils, hyacinths and blue bells, together with large sprays of forsythia offered for sale on the Farmers' Market today added further touches of spring which have been in increasing evidence on the market in recent weeks. The small bouquets sold for 10 cents each and found ready sale. Forsythia ranged in price from ten to 50 cents, depending on the size of the bunches or sprays.

Supplies of pork have disappeared almost entirely from the market as farmers stop butchering. There was a small supply of smoked sausage sold today at

Today's Talk

THE LAW

The law is our greatest friend and protector. To it we owe all order and progress.

To be sure, we sometimes rebel at it—but at that very moment it helps us most. For the law was made for all! No one is small enough to be beneath it and no one is big enough to be above it.

It is the law that makes it possible for each one of us to go ahead and work with security and confidence.

The law, therefore, must be respected! It must be obeyed. If it is bad law, the surest way to get it repealed is to see that it is enforced.

We drive over the parkways and walk along the streets and sleep in peace at night—because we know that the law will take care of us and protect us.

Society would totter without law.

Even our bodies are controlled by a set of laws. And all through Nature law is supreme. It is the only steady force that mankind has ever had to lean upon.

All laws are not wise nor just, but in total they reflect the best desires of the people who made them and for whom they were made.

Constantly we must give up for the benefit of others. As individuals we must strive to stand out clear cut and sound, each one a contributor.

As George Peabody, the great American philanthropist, once said: "The great deeds for human betterment must be done by individuals—they can never be done by the many."

So that all law becomes greater as each man makes every law a law unto himself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Walk Straight Ahead!"

GOOD FRIDAY

O, sad and solemn holy day,
O, bitterest of bitter hours!
Behold He staggers on His way
Beneath the cross that caps His powers.

O, see, they goad Him with their thongs
And mock Him as He falters there.

For us, for us, He bears these wrongs
And goes the crown of thorns to wear.

No word of bitterness He speaks,
No look of hatred mars His face.

The scoffers spit upon His cheeks
And taunt Him in the market place;

And now upon the cross He's nailed.

"I thirst," He mutters, that is all;

But still He is to be assailed;
His lips must taste the cup of gall.

Once more His lips are seen to move.

O, holy sentence uttered there!
What more His love could better prove

Than these few words borne on the air:
"Father, forgive them," thus He prayed.

And doubt not that His love was true.

Still patient, gentle, unafraid,
"Forgive, they know not what they do."

For us the crown of thorns He wore
With patience man has never known;

For us the cruel cross He bore
With meekness man has never shown.

For us He lived; for us He died;
O, sad and solemn holy day,
Renouncing, self, and earthly pride
That we might know the better way.

NETWORKS TO AIR STORY OF A. EICHMANN

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A two-week

epidemic of special television programs about Hitler's chief executioner, Adolf Eichmann, and the incredible suffering and death he brought about is soon to start.

All three major networks are planning to give the impending trial of Eichmann in Israel—to start April 11—intensive coverage on their news programs and in special news programs as courtroom proceedings develop. But they are also going to prepare the viewing audiences for it with the background of responsibility for exterminating millions of Jews in Hitler's Germany.

The briefing sessions start this Sunday with an ABC show, "The Other Adolf."

LAW EXPECTS

NBC will kick off its coverage with a debate on Saturday, April 8, on the legal aspects of the trial. Dr. Herbert Wechsler of Columbia University and Dr. Milton Katz of Harvard, both law experts, will take sides on the question whether the trial will serve the cause of international justice.

On April 9 both NBC and ABC have special shows. ABC's is called "Israel and Eichmann" while NBC's is "The Trial of Adolf Eichmann."

CBS on April 12 has a Circle Theatre dramatization of Eichmann's career. And there's an ABC "Close Up" on April 14 based on the recollections of a Jew who survived eight concentration camps, as well as a background program on CBS' "Eyewitness to History."

STUDY OLD FILM

Meanwhile, producers and editors are studying and editing hundreds of feet of old films, some captured from the Germans by the Allied armies. They have been hunting for and interviewing—here and abroad—English-speaking survivors of the Nazi horror camps. And they have been, worrying about how much they can show about conditions without revealing the viewing audience.

MIKE MILLIKEN, R-PA., is trying his utmost for passage of a bill he thinks is a good substitute for federal aid to education—at least at the college level.

Milliken's bill, which he introduced March 2, would allow up to 30 per cent credit against individual income taxes for amounts paid as tuition or fees by parents of college and university students.

Milliken told a reporter his proposal is not a new one with him.

"I had this idea before I ever came to Congress," he said.

The Delaware County Republican is now serving his second two-year term.

TO DISCUSS BILL

But at this moment, with Congress in the midst of another legislative battle over proposed federal aid to schools, Milliken said it should be a good time to push for enactment of his own proposal.

He said he intends taking the bill up with members of the House Ways and Means Committee, including Reps. William J. Green, D., and Herman T. Schneidman, the group's Pennsylvania members, and Wilbert Mills, D-Ark., the committee chairman.

The bill has been referred to this committee, which considers taxation measures.

Milliken said his office has been receiving requests from all over the country for copies of his measure.

On April 1, 1951, he was recalled for duty in the Korean War.

Saturday he starts a special month-long assignment at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

Syracuse Whips Bullets 11-3 On 13-Hit Assault; Lions Here On Wednesday

A bombardment of 13 hits by the University of Syracuse gave the Big Orange an 11-3 victory over the Gettysburg College baseball team Thursday afternoon on the Bullets' diamond.

The New Yorkers (1-0) were led by right-handed pitcher Dave Guisti and second baseman John Howell. Guisti coasted through the contest giving up only three hits while striking out 12 batters and walking five. The visiting hurler came on just as fast and effective in the late innings as he did in the early part of the contest. He fanned seven batters in the last three frames.

Howell did all his damage at the plate as he banged out four singles for five at bats. He also scored three times and drove in a pair of runs.

TAKE EARLY LEAD

The Bullets took a 1-0 lead after three frames when starting pitcher Bruce Simpson lined a single to center and Ken Fruchter dribbled a double between first and second allowing Simpson to score. The Bullets managed to come up two more runs in the bottom of the fifth.

Syracuse took off in the fourth with a trio of tallies. Dale White singled to left and Dick Easterly drew a walk. Howell then poked a single to right driving in White. First baseman Peter Palumb followed with a sharp single to center driving in both Howell and Easterly. The Big Orange followed through with two more runs in the fifth and added four in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Simpson was relieved on the hill for the Bullets by Sophomore Bob Hinds in the fifth and Ted Koerner in the seventh. Simpson is charged with the loss.

The Bullets face three home engagements next week, meeting Penn State on Wednesday, Lebanon Valley on Thursday and Temple on Saturday.

Littlestown News

STAFF WORK ON LITTONIAN NEARLY DONE

The 1961 Littonian, being published by the Senior Class of the Littlestown High School, has been compiled and the most of the work has been completed. The yearbook staff is headed by Judy Flinchbaugh as editor. In addition staff members are: Sandi Hawk, assistant editor; Diane Meisenhelter, business manager; H. Dean Stover, faculty advisor. The art department for the book consists of Linda Heltibrille, Richard Mackley, Wayne Sentz, Larry Unger and Mrs. Rachael Barley, of the faculty. This department has worked to add an original and distinctive touch to the book.

This year's Littonian has a cover design using three colors, which was perfected by Linda Heltibrille. The yearbook company commanded LHS for producing such a fine front for the publication. Richard Mackley sketched the novelty divider pages for the different sections; Wayne Sentz sketched a double page layout of LHS and Larry Unger helped to work out details in the sketches.

There will be five divisions and they are: Faculty, seniors, underclassmen, sports and activities. Several pages are devoted to candid snapshots and pictures of the dances and photographs from football games are featured.

Seniors who worked with the yearbook staff were: Sports, Larry Snyder; Robert Benner; Larry Weikert; Charles Mumford; dances, Kay Little, Grizelda Hahn, Nancy Ruggles; faculty, Linda Strevig, Clyde Brumgard; Jane Wantz, Eugene Zapp; Brenda Hollinger, James Kroh; Gloria Houston, Bonnie Storn; Donna Rabenstone; artists, Linda Heltibrille, Richard Mackley, Wayne Sentz, Larry Unger; advertising, Kathy Miller; Susan Reaver; Richard Bankert; David Slusser and Gene Apper.

Pfc. Elmer L. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Harper, 351 E. King St., Littlestown, recently completed the four-week organizational maintenance wheeled vehicle course at the Army European Engineer-Ordnance School in Murnau, Germany.

Regularly assigned as a cannoneer in the 18th Artillery's Battery B in Aschaffenburg, Harper entered the Army in December, 1959, completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C., and arrived overseas last April.

The 24-year-old soldier is a 1955 graduate of Littlestown High School. His wife, Marian, is with him in Germany.

Easter Program
At High School

An assembly program was presented in the school auditorium prior to dismissal for the Easter vacation at the Littlestown Junior-Senior High School Thursday afternoon.

The program was as follows: Scripture reading, Robert Bender, president of the student body; group singing, led by Robert Musser of the faculty, and accompanied by Miss Donna Rabenstine, a senior; poem, Sandi Hawk, a senior; vocal solo, Miss Joan Barton, sophomore, with Miss Rabenstine at the piano; Easter message, Paul E. King, supervising principal of the Jointure; announcements, Frank E. Basebaor, high school principal. The pupils will return to classes at 8:30 a.m. on Monday morning.

Tells What It's Like To Fly 31 Mi. Above Earth

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Joe Walker, X15 pilot who rode the rocket ship higher than man has ever flown before, describes the sensation 31 miles up this way:

"You feel like you're beginning to get out there where some day you'll see both sides of the old ball."

Too much cloud cover hampered Walker's view on Thursday's record flight, but it was still a thrill.

"I'm almost positive," he said, "that I could see all of the California coastline and portions of the Baja California (Mexico) coast."

SETS NEW MARK

Walker achieved the peak altitude of 165,000 feet with the X15's powerful new engine at three-quarter throttle. An X15 with a smaller engine set the old record of 136,500 feet last year.

A series of mishaps caused Walker some anxious moments.

First, he lost his cabin pressure seven minutes before the rocket ship was due to be dropped from the wing of the B52 mother ship.

Then the rocket engine stalled and it was several seconds before Walker was able to get it started again.

MYSTERIOUS BUFFETING

"It felt like five hours," he said. On the way down he ran into mysterious buffeting at about 80,000 feet.

"I've never experienced anything like it," the pilot said.

The craft stopped vibrating after a short period, and Walker glided in for a landing without further incident.

His top speed was mach 3.9, or 2,500 miles per hour and the X15's fuel burned for only 79 seconds. The entire flight lasted 10 minutes.

NO PROBLEM

At the top of his arc, Walker was weightless for two minutes—twice as long as man had previously experienced.

Walker, strapped to his seat, still felt unsupported.

"You feel like you're falling through the air," he said. "But there was no problem. I could handle the ship the way I was supposed to."

An X15 is expected eventually to reach an altitude of 100 miles and speeds up to 4,000 m.p.h.

GAS TAX HIKE TAKES EFFECT

HARRISBURG (AP) — The two-cent increase in the state tax on gasoline goes into effect at midnight tonight.

The state levy on gasoline goes from five to seven cents per gallon, making the tax paid in Pennsylvania and 15 other states the second highest in the country.

Adding the federal tax of four cents per gallon, keystone state drivers will have to pay a total of 11 cents on every gallon of gasoline purchased.

The governor of Washington Thursday signed into law the highest state gas tax in the nation. The legislation which raised the state tax there to 7½ cents also is effective April 1.

PRODUCE 74 MILLION

The two-cent increase for Pennsylvania was authorized by the legislature two months ago at the request of Gov. Lawrence. He said it would produce $74 million more for roads in the 1961-62 fiscal year.

The Associate Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, which fought the increase as it went through the legislature, kept up the battle to the bitter end.

It charged in a statement today that the tax increase is "fantastically high," 40 per cent, adding:

"Today as we read of more and more people turning to small economy cars and other means of cutting down on their consumption of motor fuel, it is interesting to note that during the past 40 years, while the tax rate on gasoline has been increased by 1,000 per cent, the real price of the product, unlike most other commodities, has actually declined."

At the top of his arc, Walker was weightless for two minutes—twice as long as man had previously experienced.

Walker, strapped to his seat, still felt unsupported.

"You feel like you're falling through the air," he said. "But there was no problem. I could handle the ship the way I was supposed to."

An X15 is expected eventually to reach an altitude of 100 miles and speeds up to 4,000 m.p.h.

Men Are Dying In Laos But Most Laotians Untouched

By JOHN GRIFFIN

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — It's a strange war around Vientiane these days—Communist guerrilla raids in the outskirts, pretty hostesses in the night clubs, secret agents flying off to mountain outposts, wounded trickling in by helicopter.

It's a war in a passing eclipse, with both sides almost waiting in semitruce for a Soviet answer to a Western cease-fire proposal. Men are dying each day fighting in fields, jungles and uplands—but most people, especially here in the capital, are living normally against a background of uncertainty.

SOME ARE FLEEING

Some people have fled across the nearby Mekong River to Thailand. Yet in Vientiane things are as usual, sometimes even the pedicab drivers doze in the shade streets sometimes packed to traffic jam proportions with shiny new cars. An occasional truck with smiling soldiers rolls by.

Shops are well-stocked, and the Indian merchants, a barometer of impending danger, say they are not leaving yet. Newly imported Thai hostesses in an air-conditioned night club report a brisk trade.

The war is further away at night.

DANCE AND DRINK

After dark Laotians dance and drink at a carnival. And yet after sundown, much of the surrounding countryside belongs more to the rebel Pathet Lao than the royal government. Mostly the rebels roam and recruit. Sometimes they raid.

Sometimes people are ambushed and killed.

Nobody gets too excited because this, too, is unnoticed at the dusty airport. Planes and helicopters carry strange, sometimes sad, cargo to and from the battle cargo.

The overworked helicopters and their quiet American pilots fly everywhere—and have the bullet holes to prove it.

They also fly back with the dead and wounded, a grim sign that even an almost-true is far from peace in a land of once happy people caught in the claws of the cold war.

Television cameraman George Carras of WSOS-TV, Charlotte, N.C., was convicted Thursday of trespassing for taking pictures during a sit-in demonstration in a Sumter, S.C., drug store.

Carras received a 100 fine or 30-day jail sentence and an attorney said the conviction would be appealed.

The B & A bought "Old Brimstone" to burn weeds along its right-of-way. Five nozzles, fed by diesel fuel at the rate of 187 gallons an hour, belch fire onto the ground. It was tried out on snow-clogged, ice-bound yard switches and worked so well the railroad figures it will cut approximately its normal $20,000 a week snow removal charge.

ELISABETHVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Units of the Katanga army, spearheaded by white mercenary troops, captured the North Katanga town of Manono Thursday and routed some 600 troops of Antoine Gizenga's Stanleyville regime.

The Katanga Province vice president, Jean Marie Kibwe, said seven Gizengists troops were killed south of Manono when they opposed the advance of the Katanga force but hardly a shot was fired in the town, an important tin mining center 300 miles north of Elisabethville.

Kibwe said he had no news of any prisoners being taken nor of the self-styled Lualaba government that leaders of the Lualaba tribe opposed to Katanga President Moise Tshombe proclaimed in Manono after the Stanleyville force captured it on Jan. 9.

Interior Minister Godefroid Munongo said there had been no death among the Katanga army or among the civilian population.

The U.N. garrison in the area, some 200 Nigerian troops, stood clear of the action, Munongo said.

PHILANTHROPY IS STRONG IN SLACK TIMES

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The spirit of giving is strong in the land. The portion of income people donate declines less in slack times than do incomes themselves.

The spirit of giving unto others may burn brighter on Good Friday, at Easter and other times of religious emphasis, but the flame holds fairly even the year through.

Philanthropy is found in all levels of society, although the mass of contributions comes from individuals making less than $10,000 a year. Giving also has become increasingly a part of the life of corporations, although they aren't supposed to have souls.

SURVIVED TAXES

Giving has survived increased tax burdens, the rising cost of living, even the growing role of federal and local governments in social welfare fields once left largely to the private sector of the economy.

Philanthropy also manages to surmount a growing resentment against the burgeoning number of causes to which individuals and corporations are asked to contribute. Many may scatter their donations less, but still give about the same—or more.

The American Association of Fund Raising Counsel, Inc., estimates that about half of private philanthropy is distributed to various religious activities, one-sixth to education at all levels, one-seventh to welfare and allied work, one-eighth to health in the form of endowment of hospitals or medical research, or care and treatment of specific diseases. Many other causes divide the rest.

$8 BILLION YEARLY

The total is now around $8 billion a year. That doesn't include the unpaid efforts of volunteers servicing institutions or doing some form of church or charitable work.

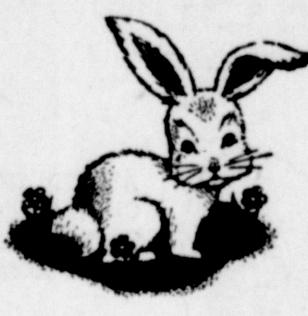

But the need for services seems to multiply even faster than the spirit of giving.

Rapid population increases account for some of this. The rub here is that the most growth in the number of Americans is at the two ends of the age brackets. The percentage growth is among the aging and the very young, rather than in the middle brackets where incomes are earned from which contributions can come.

EXPECT MORE

But part of the rising dollar totals of philanthropic services is that we now get, or expect, ever advancing types of medical care, educational training, welfare assistance.

Where does the money come from? Much of it can't be charted.

GIFT RABBIT GETS HEAVE-HO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two autos crashed head-on Wednesday about seven miles south of this Blair County community on Route 220, killing one person and injuring two others.

One of the drivers, Harry K. Allison, 38, of Cumberland, Md., died about an hour after the collision in Nason Hospital at Roaring Spring.

Hospitalized in fairly good condition were Dorothy Shipe, 21, of Cumberland, a passenger in Allison's car; and Andrew H. Schroeder, 65, of Hollidaysburg, Pa., the other driver.

Police said Schroeder swerved to avoid hitting a car in front of him, and in doing so, went into the path of Allison's oncoming car.

Recitations, "Easter Carols," Sherry Becker; "A Welcome Hand," Sharon Leas; "A Wonder Day," Delores Herman, Cathy Gladfelter, Margaret Ruppert, Marie Pinkerton and Jerry Chronister; primary song, "This is the Happiest Day of Spring"; recitation, "Why," Connie Myers, "Spring Beauty," Debra Gregory; duet, "Into the Woods My Master Went," Grace and Mary Hull; recitations, "The Lily Message," Pamela Eisenhart and Max Emig; "The Little Plant," Ernest Sloan; "The Birds Message," Stanley Szwartz; "Tell Me the Story," Jerry Leathery, Anita Gross, Max Emig, Beth Anderman, Frank Chronister and Madone Fahl; solo, "Easter Flowers Are Blooming Bright," Pamela Eisenhart, and the closing song.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wrights, W. King St., announce the birth of a son Wednesday at the York Hospital.

Amos O. Prosser, Latimore Twp., sold a property in that township for $5,150 to David L. Miller, Franklinton.

June A. Gries sold two tracts of land in Washington Twp., York County, to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith.

Mrs. William Walton, East Berlin R. 1, has been appointed chairman of the annual census of the Kraltown Elementary School children, Washington Twp., which is part of the Dover Area School District.

Mrs. Edward Reynolds, York, formerly of East Berlin, is ill at her home.

But the association estimates that individuals contribute $6.5 billion, corporations and other business firms $420 million, charitable bequests $570 million and various foundations $710 million.

One source for the estimate of corporate giving is the deduction for contributions in income tax returns.

Corporations are credited with accounting for more than one-third of the total giving to United Funds and Community Chests.

Upgrading Of Homes Will Give Construction Boost Needed By Home Builders

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The lag in home building despite the hopeful nudge from easier money policies is focussing attention today on two other fields for construction gains.

One is the increase in apartment house construction, with still greater gains expected in the next few years.

The other is the upgrading of present homes to fit changing family needs and the salvaging of many city neighborhoods starting on the downgrade.

Home building normally accounts for about 5 per cent of the total national production. But this support of the economy has been declining most of the time for two years and the 1961 outlook is for only a slight increase in building of new homes.

The government has changed its money policies from tight to easier and thus made more money available for home mortgages. It also has moved to lower mortgage interest rates. There has been some decline in various areas in the cost of financing a home, much of the drop due to lower discounts asked when the money is advanced.

But still the demand for new homes hasn't responded as hoped. Some say building costs are too high. Some say the postwar housing shortage is only a memory and there's no great urge to buy anymore.

Two other fields look brighter. The demand for apartments is rising because of the increasing totals of both senior citizens and the young marrieds who aren't ready yet for a home of their own.

ENLARGING HOMES

Builders also report that more home owners are enlarging or improving their present homes—and that still more are talking about it if financing can be arranged.

Once more the federal government is stepping in. This time it is President Kennedy's proposal to Congress that the government insure 25-year home improvement loans.

The Federal Housing Administration will now insure improvement loans for five years at 5 per cent interest rate, discounted, so the actual interest is 9.4 per cent, for a top loan of $3,500. The Kennedy proposal would raise the terms to 25 years with a maximum rate of 6 per cent and a ceiling of $10,000 per family living unit.

LONG-TERM MORTGAGES

The aim is to attract families wishing to improve or enlarge present quarters. The market potential here could be quite large, builders say. For one thing, today's higher building costs would apply only to the addition and not to the entire resulting house.

A further goal is to interest home owners and landlords in city areas where older housing is beginning to turn shabby — prelude to becoming slums of the type that blight large sections of many cities.

It is hoped that property owners will consider taking out a long-term mortgage to repair or modernize existing housing so that whole neighborhoods can be saved from taking the plunge. Builders say such moves taken in time are often more than repaid in increased resale values or in command of higher rentals.

This, at least, is the thinking behind the new housing proposals.

NEW YORK (AP) — All 15 General Electric Co. executives sentenced last month for antitrust violations have left the firm, according to a company statement.

The firm Wednesday termed the dismissals "the only course serving the best interests of the persons involved and the company."

The officials were indicted in the electrical industry price-fixing and bid-rigging case involving 44 electric firm officials and 29 companies.

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP) — A 67-year-old Bedford County woman died Thursday in Bedford County Memorial Hospital of second degree burns.

Mrs. Annie Glotfelty of Bedford R. 3, was burned Wednesday as she was pouring gasoline into a tractor. What set off the flames was not learned immediately.

The bill establishing the land-grant system of higher education, under which 68 of the nation's colleges and universities were founded, was signed by President Lincoln on July 2, 1862.

Rest After Long Walk

Mrs. May Bowman rests in her Pilot Mountain, N. C., home after she walked 30 miles in 10 hours to reach her son, Charles, nine, right, who was in a Winston-Salem hospital for eye treatment. Charles, a Third Grader, is one of Mrs. Bowman's nine children. Hospital is 37 miles from her home and with no transportation available, she started walking. She was picked up by a neighbor and driven the last seven miles to the hospital where she stayed overnight. The hospital sent Mrs. Bowman and her son home in an ambulance. (AP Wirephoto)

Ham for Easter Sunday dinner has become an American tradition. This year's choice of ham will be an economical one as this item is listed as a good meat value, reports Tom Piper, Penn State extension marketing agent.

Unless a ham is labeled "fully-cooked," food specialists recommend that you treat it as one labeled "cook-before-eating," that is, heat it to an internal temperature of 160 degrees.

A good buy in vegetables include potatoes, new cabbage, sweet corn and lettuce, although the latter item may wear a higher price tag than in recent weeks. The list of higher priced items currently includes peppers, cucumbers, cauliflower, broccoli, celery, carrots and tomatoes. Spot bargains may be noted on asparagus and yellow onions.

The wholesale processed food index has declined from earlier levels, reflecting lower costs for sugar, flour, coffee, tuna fish, spaghetti products, and selected frozen vegetables... peas, beans, and corn.

We are between seasons in fruits and the choice of good values will be limited in the weeks ahead. Grapefruit is the leading value in citrus. Larger size Valencia oranges from Florida are reasonably priced. Temple oranges and Navels from California are winding up fast.

Bananas, strawberries, Rome Beauty and Virginia Winesap apples are reasonably priced. Emperor grapes from California are winding up and quality should be checked; higher pine-apple prices will be the result of the holiday demand.

PASSOVER AND LAST SUPPER HAPPY EVENTS

By JULES LOH

NEW YORK (AP) — Was the Last Supper a happy occasion? Hardly, from the Christian point of view. But actually Jesus was celebrating with his apostles the most joyous Jewish festival of them all—Passover.

The bread He blessed and broke was an unleavened wafer, the matzo of the Jews. The wine He drank likewise was an integral part of the Passover meal, or seder, then as it is today.

St. Matthew writes that Jesus and the apostles went to the Mount of Olives "after singing the Passover hymn."

CAME FROM PSALMS

The Passover hymn was, and is today, composed of Psalms 113-118, the Egyptian songs of praise. They begin with the word hallelujah—a Hebrew word meaning "praise the Lord"; a word Christians associate with the Resurrection rather than the passion. Jews call this portion of the Passover meal the hallel, the first part of the word which means simply "praise."

It is no accident that Easter and Passover come close to the same time each year.

Jews begin the Passover celebration (it lasts eight days) on the 14th day of the Jewish month of Nisan which begins about a week before the first full moon of spring. Easter falls on the first Sunday after the same full moon.

BOTH ARE MEALS

Passover begins with two seders, this evening and Saturday evening. These are meals, like the one Jesus ate. Seder is a Hebrew word for order: the order of the ritual—and it's quite a ritual.

There are 14 steps, and the meal can last as long as five hours or more.

The whole procedure is called a Haggadah, the Hebrew word for "retelling." That is what Passover is—an annual retelling of the deliverance of the Jews from the Egyptians; the story of how they "passed over" from slavery to freedom.

EACH PART SIGNIFICANT

Each part of the Haggadah is significant to the story. The matzos, for instance, remind the Jews how their ancestors had to clear out of Egypt even before the bread had a chance to rise. Bitter herbs (usually horseradish) are eaten to remind them of the bitterness of slavery.

The Old Testament tells how Moses commanded the annual observance so the story could be passed unfailingly from father to son. It also tells how, when the

Some of the songs include: "The Song of Spring," "Come Let Us Sing," "Bless The Lord," "Look We Now To Thee," "Come Unto Me," "Our Friend Divine," "How Thou Art Wounded," "The Morn Is Breaking," "A Little While," "They Led Him Away," "As It Began To Dawn" and "Happiness Today."

The public is invited to attend. There will be no admission charge but a free-will offering will be taken for the benefit of the Youth Fellowship.

23rd Amendment Ratification Gives D.C. Presidential Vote After 160 Voiceless Years

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP)—After 160 years, residents of the District of Columbia have the right to vote for their president. And President Kennedy has hailed it as "a major step in the right direction."

But Kennedy noted that the 23rd Amendment, approved by two-thirds of the state legislatures, by no means gives district dwellers home rule—direct control over their own governing body.

Kennedy's statement said "I am hopeful that the Congress, spurred by the adoption of the 23rd Amendment, will act favorably on legislative proposals to be recommended by the administration providing the District of Columbia the right of home rule."

FAMILIAR NOTE

That note was struck by many of the comments on the ratification of the constitutional amendment Wednesday by New Hampshire and Kansas, making up the 38 states needed to make it official.

At present Washington is governed by a board of commissioners chosen by the President. Congress enacts its laws and in effect is its board of aldermen.

Sen. Thruson B. Morton of Kentucky, Republican national chairman, called it a great day "for the general principle of suffrage-for-all in the United States." His statement made no mention of pressing on for home rule.

NEGRO MAJORITY

The Democratic national chairman, John M. Bailey, however, said, "While this is a great step forward, it does not carry us to the goal to which the Democratic party is pledged in its platform of 1960. We need to permit the eligible voters of the district to elect their own local government and we also need to provide for voting representation in the Congress for the district."

Some members of Congress have been opposed to the home rule idea because Washington has a Negro majority—nearly 54 percent.

LAST VOTE IN 1800

District residents have been frozen out from voting for presi-

INVITE FIRST LADY TO PALM BEACH PARADE

By FRANCES LEWINE

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy arrived here Thursday for an Easter holiday and Palm Beach merchants scheduled an Easter celebration in honor of his wife.

The First Lady was asked to visit famous Worth Avenue, plush shopping center of Palm Beach, where an Easter parade and Easter egg hunt is to be staged Sunday.

But there was no indication that either the President or his wife would take part in the local festivities.

"A FAMILY DAY"

Easter Sunday for the Kennedys will be "a family day," said Mrs. Kennedy's press secretary, Miss Pamela Turnure.

She added that the only public appearance for the President and First Lady would be at church services. They usually attend St. Edward's Roman Catholic church here.

Mrs. Kennedy has not yet revealed what her Easter Sunday fashion outfit will be. It depends on the weather in balmy Palm Beach, Miss Turnure said.

Mrs. Kennedy, who arrived Monday with her two young children, was enjoying sunshine, swimming and visiting friends. She was working a bit, too, on President Virgil Mulkey, of the York Springs club, presided. The Rev. Amos D. Meyers supervising principal, gave a resume of the new Bermudian Springs School and its financing.

The York Springs Lions Club will again sponsor the annual Easter egg hunt which will be held Sunday at the York Springs Elementary School. The Bermudian Springs High School band will present a concert at 2 p.m. followed by the egg hunt.

BRIEFS

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government today reported heavy fighting in eastern Laos two days ago, contradicting previous reports that a virtual ceasefire seemed to be in effect during the SEATO conference.

Information Minister Bouavan Norasingh issued a report of a violent battle Tuesday near Kam Keut, about 130 miles east of Vientiane. The report claimed government troops killed 80 of the pro-Communist rebels.

Erwin Schuele, director of the central office, reported some 150 of those to be tried are already being held for investigation.

LONDON (AP)—"Some people seem to be ashamed of having millions," said shipowner Basil Mavroleon. "I'm not. Why should I be?"

Whereupon Mavroleon ordered up beer Wednesday for 300 shipyard workers gathered for the launching of his new $1,344,000 yacht, the Radiant II.

"This is one of the most splendid days of my life," said Mavroleon. "I want to make sure it's enjoyable for everyone else."

MOSCOW (AP)—The Supreme Court of Estonia today announced the execution of two wartime Estonian police officers who helped run Nazi extermination camps that wiped out an estimated 125,000 persons.

The pair—Ralf Gerrets, 55, and Jan Vijk, 44—were condemned March 11.

His Last Words...

EDITOR'S NOTE — In an unadorned statement of fact, St. Luke put on public record one of the most significant events of human history. In this last of a series on Christ's last words by nationally prominent clergymen, a Roman Catholic archbishop shows how Christ's final sigh was "a triumph of failure."

By THE MOST REV.
KARL J. ALTER

Written For The Associated Press
"It is consummated."

St. Luke described the climactic moment of Christ's death on the cross in terse but vivid language:

"It was about the sixth hour and there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour. The sun was darkened, and the curtain of the temple was torn in the middle. And Jesus cried out with a loud voice and said, 'Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit.'"

St. John reminds us of further details, as foreshadowed in the sixty-eighth psalm:

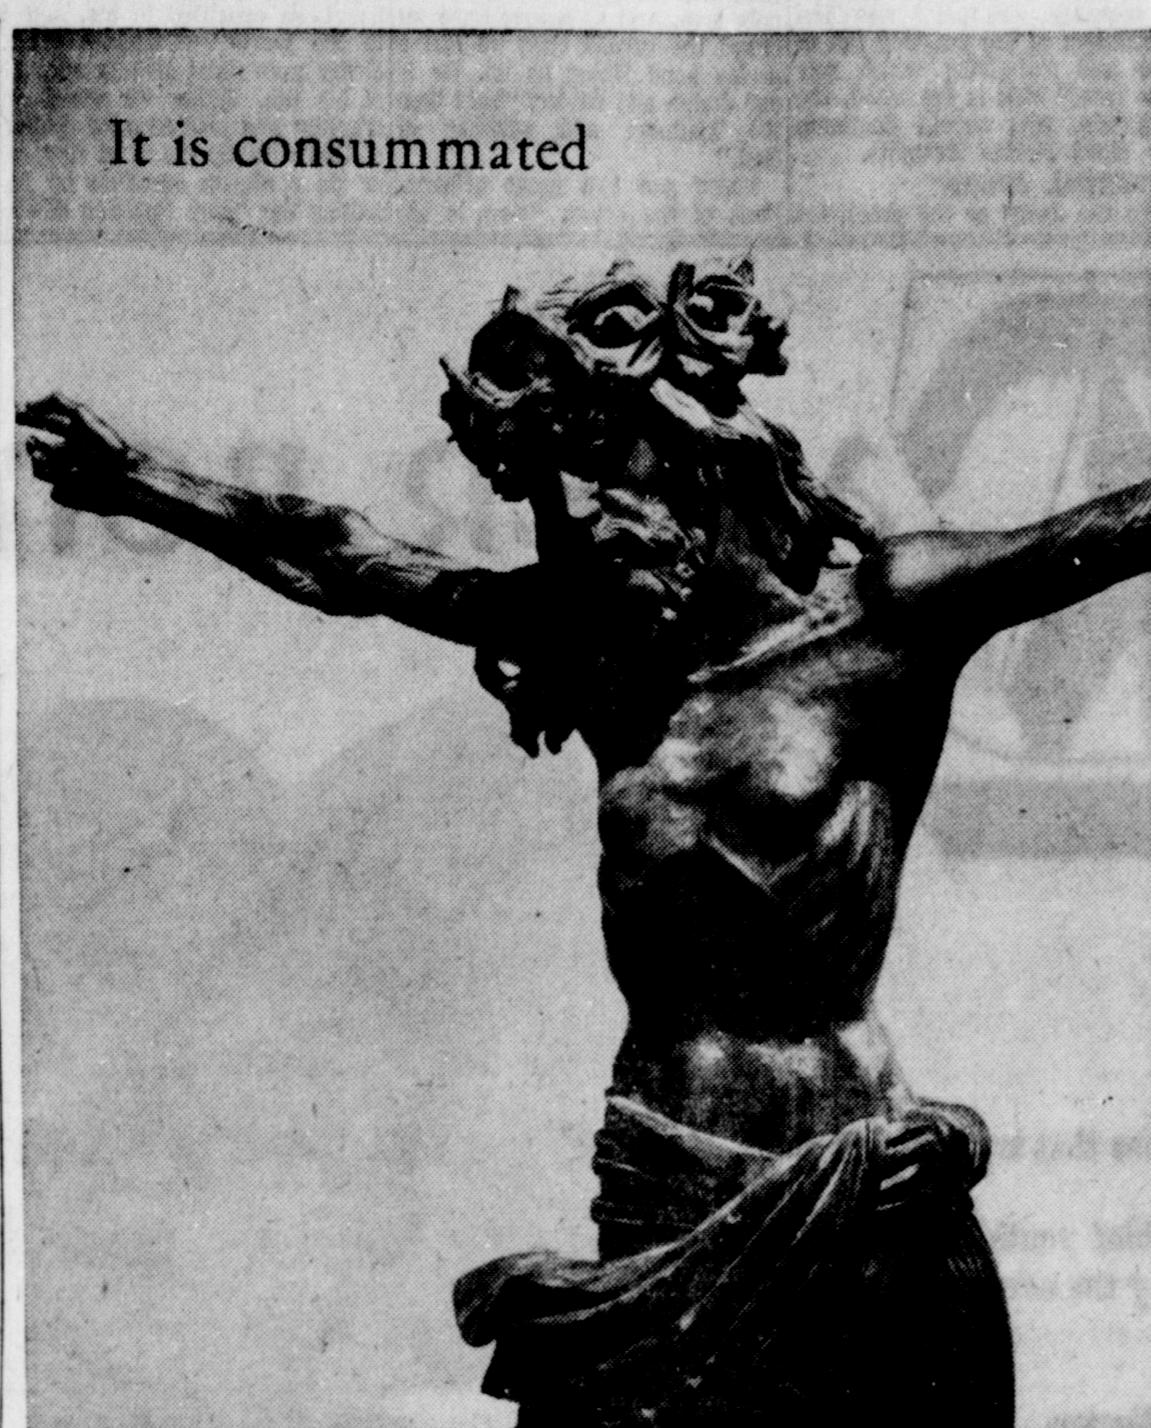

"There was standing there a vessel full of common wine; and having put a sponge soaked with the wine on a stalk of hyssop, they put it to his mouth. Therefore, when Jesus had taken the wine, he said, 'It is consummated! And bowing his head, he gave up his spirit.'

In this simple, unadorned statement of fact, the most significant event of all human history is put on public record. The ineffable mystery of the Redemption is summed up in a phrase:

"It is consummated."

Christian people have always looked upon Christ's death on the cross as a triumph of failure. To the immediate witnesses of His crucifixion, Christ's life seemed to end in defeat and disaster. To succeeding generations, however, the cross spells a spiritual victory over the force of violence; it represents the triumph of good over evil, of love over hatred.

When Christ spoke his final words from the cross, "It is consummated," His sojourn on earth seemed to be prematurely ended; but His sublime mission had been gloriously achieved. It was a mission meant to portray divine truth, goodness and beauty—not in the abstract phrases of philosophy, but in the concrete form of a living personality.

MISSION OF MERCY

It was a mission of infinite mercy, by which, in a divine paradox, the Son of God invested Himself with human weakness, in order to lift up man to the majestic stature of the divine likeness. It was a mission of reconciliation, whereby the wall and earth would be broken down, and the indictment of guilt, as St. Paul calls it, be blotted out.

It was an act of sublime self-surrender to the will of His heavenly Father to atone for the willful disobedience of His brothers in the flesh. It was not a manifestation of impotent weakness, as His enemies charged. It was a voluntary surrender unto death, in order that we who were dead in sin might live unto justice. Christ made this clear in His own words:

"I lay down my life that I may take it up again. No one takes it from me, but I lay it down of myself." (John 10:17-18)

AGONY IN GARDEN

When we contemplate the bitter agony of Christ in the garden of Gethsemane, His bloody scourging in the court of Pilate, His cruel death on the cross, we become aware that sin has its price. It is assumed all to often that the violation of the moral order does not carry with it a penalty, as in the violation of the physical order. The consequences may be different, less immediate, and less apparent; but they are no less certain. Treason, lust, gluttony, deceit and hypocrisy impose penalties, as surely as fire burns and poisoned food destroys life. Personal sins lead to personal disaster, and social crimes end in social misery. It was the composite sins of all mankind that led to the cross; but the cross in turn led to victory over sin and death. No wonder, when the deed was done, Christ could cry out with exultant voice but with a sigh of relief:

"It is consummated."

WASHINGTON PRETTY SIGHT FOR TOURISTS

By MARTHA COLE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington today was as pretty as she's ever been for her annual springtime guests — and they are arriving by the thousands.

About a million visitors are expected within a month, more than seven million during the year.

The cherry blossoms made a pink fairland down by the Jefferson Memorial. The magnolia trees burst almost overnight into paler pink and lavender blooms all over town. The newly scrubbed government buildings gleamed white behind the yellow forsythia.

PANSIES BLOOM

Across the avenue from the green expanse of the White House grounds, hundreds of pansies splashed Lafayette Square with color.

Blossoming trees and shrubs gave a festive air to the stretch of Massachusetts Avenue where magnificent embassies rub shoulders.

And the tourists arrived.

Nobody could prove it, but some oldtimers around town said they believed the combination of cherry blossoms, Easter and spring all at the same time brought a record number of visitors to the capital.

POLICEMEN QUESTIONED

But then they always come about this time, said a policeman.

That was a policeman out by the Capitol steps.

The most oft asked question, he said, was about what went on in the Capitol and did the President live there.

The question asked the second most often, the policeman figured, is what is the statue on top of the Capitol. (It's a draped woman, not an Indian, representing freedom.)

The most caustic criticism centered around the society's founder, Robert Welch, who is said to have called former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others Communists.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover spoke out today against "reckless charges" and "vigilante action" in a signed editorial in the FBI law enforcement bulletin.

Hoover did not mention the John Birch Society, and FBI spokesmen declined comment on whether the society was an intended target.

NEED COOPERATION

Hoover wrote: "The job of curtailing and containing communism is one for legally constituted authorities with the steadfast cooperation of every loyal citizen."

"This is neither the time for action nor vigilante action."

"Attributing every adversity to communism is not only irrational, but contributes to hysteria and fosters groundless fears."

The Birch society was founded in 1948 by Welch, a retired candy manufacturer from Belmont, Mass. It has active chapters in almost every part of the country. The society is named for a Baptist missionary who served as an Army intelligence officer in the Far East in World War II. The society says Birch was killed by Chinese Communists 10 days after the end of the war.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., told a reporter he would ask the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to investigate the society and its leaders. Dodd joined Sen. Thomas Kuchel, R-Calif., in denouncing the organization Thursday in the Senate.

Mrs. Cuthbertson came back to Frankenmuth to live with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nuechterlein. Mrs. McMahon and her two sons also left New London. They never saw each other again, but kept in contact by letters.

Mrs. Cuthbertson gave birth to a baby girl, Nancy Lee, Jan. 27, 1943, and on Feb. 1 a telegram was delivered to Nancy at Saginaw's St. Mary's Hospital.

"JIM AND MIKE"

It said: "Don't forget our date for Annapolis hop in 1961. If you like rugged men count on Jim or curly-headed Mike." It was signed "Jim and Mike."

Both boys tried for Annapolis. Jim's eyesight kept him out. Now he's studying in a university in Germany. Mike made it, and is a senior at Annapolis.

And the promise made in infancy is being kept in maturity, and today Nancy and her mother fly from Willow Run Airport to Washington, D.C., to meet Mrs. McMahon, and Nancy will dance Saturday night at the annual midshipmen's Easter ball with Mike as her partner.

NAME PORTER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Howard Porter, East Millboro, Fayette County, has been named chairman of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The appointment, made by U.S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, was announced Thursday by the State ASC office here.

Also named to the three-member committee were Harry A. Peers, Scotland, Franklin County, and James W. Frederick, Watertown, R. I. Northumberland County.

The ASC committee oversees U.S. agriculture department price support, soil bank, allotments and agricultural conservation practices programs in the state.

Charities Share In Crozer Estate

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A number of colleges and charities will share the largest part of the estate of Dr. James Henry Franklin, former president of Crozer Theological Seminary at Chester, Pa. His will was probated in chancery court here Thursday, with his estate, all in personal property, valued at $173,000.

Most of the amount left to charity will go to the Medical College of Virginia for the care and treatment of handicapped children. Relatives will receive $45,000 of the estate.

The MCV Hospital received an outright gift of $20,000, and the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children was left $5,000.

FBI PLANS TO LOOK INTO THE BIRCH SOCIETY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The John Birch Society, a conservative anti-Communist organization, has become a matter of concern to the attorney general, a Justice Department spokesman said today.

Asked if the department planned any action, the spokesman said, "A growing number of inquiries which the Justice Department has received about the John Birch Society has made it a matter of concern to the attorney general."

He declined to go beyond that brief statement.

There was no direct comment from Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the President.

DENOUNCED ORGANIZATION

Members of both the House and Senate denounced the organization Thursday and called for investigations of its leaders. Several senators have been attacked in letter-writing campaigns by society members.

The most caustic criticism centered around the society's founder, Robert Welch, who is said to have called former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and others Communists.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover spoke out today against "reckless charges" and "vigilante action" in a signed editorial in the FBI law enforcement bulletin.

CONTRACT FOR PLANS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A contract for final design of a 10-mile section of the Keystone Shortway in Mercer and Venango Counties has been awarded to the Capitol Engineering Corp., Dillsburg, York County.

The State Highways Department reported Thursday the firm will receive an estimated fee of $330,250 for the work. The project was ordered completed within 12 months.

Many Will Celebrate Christ's Resurrection In Spiritual Rites

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Easter will be observed Sunday night when the people of Fredericksburg, Tex., will light "Easter fires" in surrounding hills for the 114th year.

The custom dates back to the pioneer era when early German settlers pacified children by telling them that the campfires of hostile Indians really were set by the Easter bunny to cook and dye their Easter eggs.

One of the earliest outdoor Easter day services in the nation will be at 4:45 a.m. (Eastern Standard Time) in the Cathedral of The Pines atop a hill at Rindge, N.H. Observers at last year's service, attended by about 6,000 persons, noted automobile registration plates from 32 states.

HARRISBURG (AP) — Michael A. Dickerson, Beaver Falls, today was named editor of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania's newspaper, "Young Republican."

Chairman George Merrell said the paper will be published monthly as the voice of young Republicans throughout Pennsylvania.

"Holy Week Is Most Dreadful, Most Blessed"

"AFFIRMATIONS OF THE CROSS"

By REV. C. R. SIMMONS JR.

Pastor, Church of the Brethren

It has been observed that the only route from Palm Sunday to Easter Sunday runs straight through the desolation of Good Friday. This is why that which the church calls Holy Week is at once the most dreadful and most blessed week of all history. On Good Friday we rightly glory in the cross, joining Paul the Apostle in resolving to know only Christ and Him crucified (I Cor. 2:2). But when Paul thus spoke it is unlikely that he was as deeply interested in the physical pain of Jesus' crucifixion, for not in its horror lies the power of the cross. To become obsessed with the details of the agony and bloody sweat" would impress the apostle as a perversion of the gospel of the cross.

Although we should be conscious of what was done to our Lord by men, the significance of the cross lies in what Jesus of Nazareth did. The real reason why Paul turned again and again to the cross, making it central in his message, was that it was "the instrument of the amazing act of love and self-giving which sets men free." This is the mood, the emphasis, that should dominate our Good Friday thoughts.

"ETERNAL JUDGE"

We see Jesus on the cross, the eternal Judge of all the powers of evil, and the eternal Savior of men. We individually must confront ourselves with this heart-breaking truth by which we are judged and condemned, but we must always realize that it is the judgment and condemnation of holy love. And no sooner have we heard the verdict than we feel a divine hand lifting us up. He is our Judge and Savior. "Not then the kindness and severity of God."

There are two great affirmations of the cross: "Now is the judgment of this world, now shall the ruler of this world be cast out, and I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself" (John 12:31-32), and, "For he it from me to glory except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world" (Galatians 6:14).

Every man must give an account of his life. Either we accept in humility and penitence the proffer of God's mercy for us as sinners, or we condemn ourselves by rejecting the "only Begotten of the Father" by crucifying the Christ anew. Our response is the decision of our lives. May God help us to affirm not in word alone but by every thought and deed that the cross is central in God's plan of reconciliation.

Easter Bonnet

These are the times that try women's souls.

But all the mischief youthful fingers may perform can only fray the nerves and upset the budget.

You can't spoil Easter.

For Easter isn't frills and finery. Easter isn't pride and parading.

Easter is the soul's own Life—bright with God's love today—rich with His promise tomorrow.

Its adornment is a world at worship . . . souls at one with the risen Christ . . . fulfilling the ageless quest for the beauty and joy which cannot perish.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A. P. REPORTER PICKS WINNERS FOR ACADEMY "OSCAR DERBY"

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — David Janssen, active in both TV and movies, says he looks upon acting as primarily a job, with fame and money as byproducts. "I'm always unemployed after we wrap up the last job," he says. "There's no sense in having chronic remorse after it's been done. You just go on to the next project."

"It's all relative. As an actor your work habits are different. You have to get a good night's sleep so you're presentable before the cameras and perhaps you have to make love to someone you've just been introduced to and you'll never see again."

He lists the entry, comment and probable odds.

James Bacon's Oscar Handicap, for Monday, April 17, post time, 8 p.m., PST.

Selections, for fast track, are in order of handicapper's preference.

COMPANIES CALLED

Three other small buildings also were gutted by the flames.

Six fire companies from Apollo and neighboring communities fought the blaze, visible for miles around. Its cause was not immediately known.

Byron Shepler, owner of the track, said:

"I left the building at about 9 p.m. and everything seemed all right to me. I even left the day's receipts in the register. I just got home when the fire whistle sounded."

VAULT SAVES RECORDS

Trust company officials said they were certain their money and records were not destroyed in the flames because the vault had been locked with a time lock. It was set to open at 8 a.m. Saturday because the bank was not to be open today — Good Friday, they said.

Firemen managed to save some of the trust company's equipment but said they believed a $12,500 electronic computing machine was destroyed.

Cabinet Votes Aid For Pickens, Strengthens Stand On Ft. Sumter Supports Blair's "Let's Move Pitch"

WASHINGTON, D. C. — March 29 — Defense of Fort Pickens at Pensacola, Fla., was unanimously urged by President Abraham Lincoln's cabinet in an emergency meeting here today.

The six members attending the session — Simon Cameron, secretary of war, was absent — also strengthened their stand on defense of Fort Sumter at Charles-ton, S. C.

PRESIDENT Lincoln was said to have electrified the cabinet members with revelations that Gen. Winfield Scott, Army chief, had advised that both Pickens and Sumter might have to be abandoned.

Each of the six quickly rejected this possibility as it applied to Fort Pickens.

And the stand taken at a cabinet meeting March 15 by Postmaster General Montgomery Blair, who flatly urged immediate reinforcement of Sumter, was strengthened by the qualified concurrence of Attorney General Edward Bates and Navy Secretary Gideon Welles.

As of today, Fort Sumter, Fort Pickens and two other Florida forts—Taylor and Jefferson—are the only installations in the South still in Federal hands.

Tomato Acreage Reduction Indicated For This Year

A recent release from the United States Department of Agriculture indicates a sharp reduction in prospective tomato acreage for 1961 in the northeastern tomato growing states (New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland) compared to the ten year average, 1950-59: 49,100 acres vs 53,930 acres, a decline of 42 per cent.

The situation in Pennsylvania runs almost parallel with 12,000 acres indicated for 1961 compared to the ten year average of 21,900. However, opposed to the decrease in acreage is a steady improvement in yield—tons per acre. For example, in Pennsylvania the yield per acre averaged 12.9 tons in 1960 while the ten year average, 1950-59, was only 7.9 tons per acre. But this impressive improvement in yield is still insufficient to offset the decline in acreage planted. Processors and marketers of canned tomato products are probing for reasons for the shrinking acreage since the public demand for these products, especially tomato juice, shows a marked year to year increase.

GROWERS ARE HESITANT

"There is agreement, generally, that growers are reluctant to sign for acreage because of uncertainty in the labor supply. Adverse publicity on migratory labor and many new bills on farm labor in state legislatures and on a federal level have aggravated the problem," said an Adams County processor.

According to the American Institute of Food Distribution, Inc., harvesting and handling of tomatoes is currently being conducted.

Machines developed by two experimental stations in cooperatives were tried last year. A seed company and at least one canner have developed harvesters. However, there are still many drawbacks on mechanical harvesting, one being the need for developing special varieties of tomatoes that would deliver higher yields in one picking. Even though this has not as yet been accomplished, it is said that there is more effort among tomato plant breeders in variety development than on any other item on the market shelf.

TV TO FEATURE SPECIAL SHOWS ABOUT EASTER

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Except for an outpouring of special programs tied to the Easter weekend, things will be fairly quiet in television the next seven days.

Tonight however, there is a debut of a new dramatic series, "Way Out," which takes over on CBS (9:30-10 EST) and promises to concentrate on the strange and mysterious.

There is another American Heritage program, "Not in Vain," concerned with events leading up to the Gettysburg Address, on NBC Saturday night (9:30-10). Raymond Massey again will play Lincoln.

CHURCH SERVICE

On Sunday morning there will be both Protestant and Catholic church services televised between 11 a.m. and noon. NBC will have its cameras in the Cathedral of the Holy Cross in Boston where Richard Cardinal Cushing will celebrate a Solemn High Mass. CBS' services will be broadcast from New York's Riverside church, with Dr. Robert J. McCracken officiating.

A new opera, "Break of Day," will have its premiere on ABC at 1:2 p.m. Sunday, a musical treatment of the Resurrection.

EICHMANN BRIEFING

The first of a number of briefing sessions on the forthcoming trial of Adolf Eichmann will be shown on ABC at 3:30 Easter Day. For evening entertainment there is, on NBC, a special called "Marineland Circus" (8-9) with Rosemary Clooney and Lloyd Bridges, followed by another Roy Rogers country-style special on the same network. ABC has a police-action series, "Asphalt Jungle" making its bow at 9:30 p.m.

On Wednesday (8:30-9 p.m.) CBS has an action series, "Danger Man" bowing in, and ABC's Thursday night "Silents Please" (10:30-11) is a condensation of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" with Lon Chaney.

Says Traffic Deaths Low For 2 Months

CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's traffic deaths in the first two months of 1961 were the lowest for a comparable period in 11 years, says the National Safety Council.

The two-month toll of 4,970 was 5 per cent lower than the 5,250 fatalities on the highways in January and February last year and compared with the previous low matter. The plan was to eject and try to recover the satellite's capsule.

of 4,719 for the first two months of 1950. Council officials said severe snow storms in the east in January contributed to this year's low toll.

Traffic accidents killed 2,320 in February, 2 per cent lower than in February last year, and 2,650 in January. The council estimated 200,000 persons suffered disabling injuries in the first two months this year and said 468 of 728 cities reporting had no traffic deaths.

Earthworms are found in Australia, New Zealand and Burma that grow to a length of three feet.

SHOULDN'T HAVE ASKED

STERLING, Colo. (AP)—For decades people here wondered what kind of flowering tree grows in the courthouse square. Asst. County Agent Bob Coissant got so many inquiries about the tree, he believed planted around the turn of the century, he sent a branch sorbifolia to Dr. H. D. Harrington, University of Colorado botanist. Dr. Harrington drew this conclusion: The tree is a member of the family sapindaceae native to northern China. Genus is xanthoceras, and the species is
